

From local to global

THE BUTTERFLY EFFECT

A NETWORK TO REACH A STRONGER JOINT IMPACT

THE BUTTERFLY EFFECT

The Butterfly Effect is a network of international and local civil society organisations and NGO which advocates for effective local solutions that have a sustainable impact on water and sanitation and water resource management, committed to innovate, integrate traditional knowledge and demonstrate best practices.

Our objectives are to:

Mobilize and facilitate NGO and CSO participation and contribution on the Water international agenda by pooling knowledge and resources and exert greater influence over the sector's actors and decision-makers;

Promote inclusive processes in the World Water Forum in order to ensure a prominent role for civil society organisations, both throughout the preparatory processes and during the Forum;

Share innovative expertise: The Butterfly Effect proposes solutions based on human rights principles, communities' experience that relate to policies, projects, information campaigns and empowering stakeholders. Crucially, these solutions are local, sustainable, adaptable, innovative, equitable, accountable and people-orientated.

Identifying key water governance issues to contribute to water security in the broader sense: Human Rights to Water & Sanitation, Finance, Peace and transboundary cooperation, Capacity development, ...

How to join the network?

Send us a message with a brief description of the motivations to join the Butterfly Effect.

To learn more about our work, visit the:
www.sie-see.org/en/project/butterfly-effect/

Contacts :

Sarah Dousse:
sdousse@sie-isw.org

Natalia Uribe Pando:
nuribepando@actioncontrelafaim.org